Will Propose Reservations To Atlantic Pact

Senator Would Cancel Any American Obligation To Make War Automatically

DEBATE ON PACT STARTS TUESDAY

By ALLAN J. FUNCH
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 2.—A western Republican plans today to offer reservations to the North Atlantic Pact aimed at cancelling any American obligation automatically to make war on a European aggressor.

Sen. Watkins (R) Utah, said he will introduce two such proposals soon after the far-reaching treaty against Communist expansion comes up for Senate debate on Tuesday.

Senate Foreign Relations Committee Chairman Connally (D) Tex., will offer the pact for ratification along with a unanimous committee recommendation for that action.

Prolonged debate is expected since most senators want to publicly air their views. Ultimate approval by considerably more than the necessary two-thirds majority is anticipated.

Due to the press of other legislation, congressional leaders see little possibility of passage of this session of one billion, 130 million dollar European rearmament companion-program.

Watkins, who would have to get a majority of those voting to attach a reservation to the pact, conceded that he does not believe he can muster the necessary strength at present.

Another Republican who said he will support the Watkins reservation, estimated their maximum strength at not more than a dozen votes.

Aim Of Reservations
The reservations would:
1. Provide that "Congress is not expressly, implied or morally obligated to declare war" in any particular case, and that it shall have "complete freedom" of decision on any action against an aggressor.

2. Provided that it is "understood" that the United States assumes no obligation to assist any other country or to use military

PA NEWS & OBSERVES

J. R. Weller of New Castle-Ellwood road, reports that he has had ripe tomatoes on his vines since June 29, and expects to have ripe sweet corn, the first of the week.

With additional traffic concentrated on two routes through the city, due to detours on routes 19 and 422, there is every prospect for a lot of traffic congestion in New Castle on the Fourth of July holiday period.

New Castle will have no Fourth celebration this year. Two organized celebrations are arranged in the county, one at Volant and one at Bessemer.

John Lapinsky reports that a great many motorists are missing the detour signs on route 422 and are stopping at his filling station, at the intersection of 422 and the road to Princeton, to get information.

Because of through traffic detours, there is likelihood of a traffic jam at the intersection of Croton avenue and East Washington street over the Fourth holiday period. New Castle drivers would do well to avoid this intersection in driving through the city.

Corn on Lawrence county farms is not only "knee high by the Fourth of July" this year, but on some farms is four and five feet in height.

Daily Weather Report

Statistics for the same date a year ago follow:

Submerging Of Truman's World Program Feared

WASHINGTON, July 2.—(INS)—Congressional leaders are fearful today that President Truman's "bold new program" for development of backward areas will be submerged in the mass of other legislation.

The President has submitted draft bills embodying his proposals to Vice President Barkley and House Speaker Rayburn.

Observers think it significant that Mr. Truman did not mention a specific figure in the legislation. In a special message to Congress a week ago he estimated the cost for the first year at 45 million dollars.

Proposals Made
The President proposes these commitments:

1. Authority for the export-import bank to guarantee investments by private American capital in undeveloped countries.

2. Authority for international technical cooperation to promote U. S. foreign policy through existing government agencies, the United Nations and the organization of American states.

Activities under the latter program would include economic, engineering, medical, educational and fiscal surveys and related projects.

The President asks for authorization to create an "institute of technical cooperation" within the State Department to carry out the purposes of the act.

Brannan Plan Is Denounced

American Farm Bureau Federation Calls Plan Political Proposal

By JOHN BOOTH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 2.—A major farm organization denounced the so-called Brannan plan today as a political proposal and called instead for slight changes in the Republican Aiken-Hope bill.

Directors of the powerful American Farm Bureau Federation took this stand in backing up concerted opposition by top AFBF officers since Agriculture Secretary Brannan outlined his production payment proposals last April 7.

The Aiken-Hope bill, passed by the 80th Congress, will go into effect January 1 unless repealed at this session, as one piece of House legislation proposes.

This measure has been strongly supported by AFBF. It provides loan rates on cotton, wheat, corn, peanuts and rice at 72 to 90 per cent of parity whenever marketing quotas or acreage allotments are in effect.

The federation now proposes that the low side of the range be raised to 75 per cent of parity.

Vigorous Attack

In their most vigorous attack to date on the Brannan plan, the directors said:

"The farmers' only hope for a fair income would depend on government handouts from annual appropriations by Congress. We maintain that it is unreasonable to stake the welfare of agriculture upon such a hazardous possibility.

"There is no possibility of securing appropriations large enough to pay the costs of the program."

The directors claimed that the manner in which the program was presented has tossed the farm problem "into the partisan political arena."

Brannan's proposals are scheduled for hearings before two Senate sub-committees next week.

President Will Return Monday To Washington

WASHINGTON, July 2.—(INS)—President Truman embarked on the Presidential yacht Williamsburg today for a holiday cruise down the Potomac and Chesapeake Bay.

The President will spend the week-end aboard the yacht, returning to Washington late Monday.

For the first time Mr. Truman did not take members of his staff on his week-end cruise. The outing is for his daughter, Margaret, and two of her young friends, Drucie Snyder, daughter of the secretary of the treasury, and Jane Lingo, daughter of a naval officer.

The President took along a mass of paper work, including the mid-year economic report which he will shortly send to Congress, to occupy his time over the week-end.

The Williamsburg left its dock at the naval gun factory at 10:45 a.m. It will anchor this evening off the mouth of the St. Mary's river.

Heavy Traffic

On the coast, San Francisco and Los Angeles authorities reported heavy automobile and train traffic with ideal vacation weather.

Holiday drivers were detoured to secondary roads for hours last night and early today when traffic on Highway 12-20 at the Illinois-Indiana boundary was blocked by a collision between an empty oil truck and a Pennsylvania railroad passenger train.

A Chicago truck driver was killed and the locomotive fireman injured in the collision. Police said a possible major tragedy was averted because the truck had already discharged its cargo of fuel oil when the accident occurred. None of the train passengers was injured.

In St. Louis, railroad stations, bus terminals and airport offices reported huge crowds of holiday travelers seeking to escape a five-day heat wave that took five lives and hospitalized 25 persons suffering heat exhaustion.

Warfare in Korea

BORDER WARFARE along the 38th parallel dividing Southern and Northern Korea flares anew with withdrawal of last U. S. occupation troops. Artillery fire is reported from area of Ongjin, where some 200 North Korea soldiers are said to be below the dividing line. ## Americans Look For Noah's Ark

Expedition To Search For Age-Old Noah's Ark Awaits Official Permission

ISTANBUL, July 2.—(INS)—Four Americans, planning an expedition that may end the age-old search for Noah's Ark, awaited official permission for their search today, and hoped that Russian spy fears will not prevent it.

Russian wariness of alleged espionage last month prevented a British expedition from climbing Mt. Ararat, where the Biblical ship is believed to have run aground after the "great deluge."

Pravda, the official Moscow organ of the Communist Party, labeled the British group "spies" when it became known they intended to scale Mt. Ararat, which dominates the east Armenian section of the Turkish-Russian frontier. Turkish officials, apparently wary of exciting her northern neighbor, quickly cancelled the expedition's permit.

Dr. Aaron J. Smith, of Greensboro, N. C., head of the current expedition, said last night that even if permission is granted for himself and his colleagues to scale the peak, he expects complications. The Russians, the doctor declared, will not hesitate to "sabotage" the search.

Three Others Join

The three other expedition members who join Smith in believing the Ark is imprisoned in a glacier on the sides of Mount Ararat, are Edmund J. Newton, of Colfax, N. C., Walte I. Wood, of Sea Cliff, N. Y., and W. C. Ogg, of Knoxville, Tenn.

They intended to go to Ankara next week, and begin negotiations for permission to travel beyond Erzurum, the Turkish army's powerful eastern bastion.

Dr. Smith, in defending the group's opinion that the ark is on Ararat, referred doubting newsmen to the biblical Book of Genesis and ancient Babylonian folk tales.

The North Carolinian said that both these sources strengthen his hopes that the remains of the Ark will be found trapped in a glacier almost at the top of the 16,000-foot mountain.

He said that the Bible and the folk tales both indicate the Ark was caulked with pitch, which, together with the ice, should have preserved it through the centuries.

Winning Ticket Brought Trouble

TOKYO.—(INS)—From a jail cell, Hiroshi Yoshida, 29, laments the day he tempted fate by spending 50 yen for a ticket in atom-bombed Nagasaki's "reconstruction lottery."

Yoshida won the 150,000 yen second prize.

With a bulging wallet, he headed for Tokyo determined to parlay his nest-egg into a fortune.

He soon found that appearances counted in the big city and spent 100,000 yen on a wardrobe.

The remainder, Yoshida found to his dismay, would not take him far in Tokyo.

Police picked him up as he was trying to sell the bed sheets and slip covers he had stolen from his hotel to pay his bills.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

Conditions recalling the perilous general strike of 1926 that crippled industry temporarily and cost untold millions began to shape up in Great Britain today and desperate measures are being taken to ward off chaos.

If week-end negotiations fail the British Isles—still a far way from complete post-war recovery—will face one of the gravest tie-ups in decades.

Creeping Paralysis Looms

The creeping paralysis that threatens is scheduled to get under way Monday on the nationalized railways. The National Union of Railwaymen, determined to achieve a general pay increase of ten shillings ($2) per week, has called a nationwide "go slow" strike.

This means most meticulous obedience of all rules and regulations of both the railways and the unions, with the stipulations being read in such a manner that it would inevitably mean a serious dislocation of service.

Also complicating matters is a new London dock strike, in which 7,200 men already have quit their jobs.

And a major walk-out of power plant workers is in preparation. If it becomes effective, it would of course affect industry and public utilities all along the line.

London dispatches speak ominously of the "general strike atmosphere."

The principle of the general strike as a means of direct action to achieve labor benefits that have failed to come by ordinary means of parliamentary deliberation has a peculiarly checked history.

It was launched in France at the turn of the century. It represented basically a revolt by French Socialist and revolutionary labor schools against German Marxism and Anglo-American "capitalist trade unionism."

The fundamental idea sprang from Louis Auguste Blanqui and Pierre Joseph Proudhon and it spread within the next decade to England, the United States, Canada, Australia, Italy, Spain and Latin America.

On numerous occasions, there were fruitless demonstrations against wars and dictators. On others some successes were achieved, such as on the issue of universal suffrage in Belgium and the defeat of a government franchise bill in Sweden in 1902 which labor viewed as reactionary in the extreme.

The greatest test came in Britain in 1926, when all trade unions struck in support of demands by British miners whose living and working standards were notoriously poor.

British industry and transportation came to a standstill. A hush fell over the land and in an atmosphere heavy with tension the workers launched the most far-reaching "direct action" by labor in history. The strike lasted only a few days, however.

On every side it soon became apparent that the union leaders had opened a Pandora's box and had equipped themselves with a weapon of some enormous power that a violent revolutionary conflict could be the only outcome.

So the unionists themselves called off the demonstration, raising their loyalty to democracy and the crown higher than a willingness to provoke anarchy and chaos. It ended before sabotage and boycott on any major scale could be

Every year, on the Fourth of July, patriotic Americans take stock of themselves and again resolve to preserve untarnished our heritage of freedom. Today more than ever true Americans have grave problems to solve, many threatening evils to fight, in order to preserve this heritage. And we shall never be successful to overcome the dangers that lurk in our midst unless we are Americans in heart, in spirit and in purpose and keenly alive to our great responsibilities.

And so as we hold this annual celebration in the year of our Lord Nineteen Hundred and Forty-nine, we find it more fitting than ever before to here again publish The Gettysburg Address delivered by Abraham Lincoln more than eighty-five years ago.

"Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth upon this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal. Now we are engaged in a great civil war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this. But in a larger sense we cannot dedicate, we cannot consecrate, we cannot hallow, this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it far above our power to add or detract. The world will little note nor long remember what we say here; but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us the living, rather to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the task remaining before us, that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave their last full measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation under God, shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people and for the people shall not perish from the earth."

There is no element of surprise in the announcement by the Federal Reserve Board that the nation's industrial production is now at the lowest point in three years and that it is likely to go somewhat lower. Considering all the circumstances, it is hard to see how anything else could have been expected.

The recession the country is now experiencing is not pleasant, but it is a normal reaction to the unprecedented burst of business prosperity that set in immediately after the war. Beginning with 1946 there were so many needs to be met—houses, automobiles, household appliances, oil, clothes, etc.—that industry was given an impetus it had never had before. Only the super-optimists or the unthinking believed that a pace of that sort could be kept up indefinitely.

The encouraging feature of the Reserve Board's report is the statement that production today, despite the recent drop, is still 74 per cent above the 1935-39 average. That is a sizable increase and points up that conditions would have to become perceptibly worse before the nation sank near the prewar industrial status.

The nation's economy gives every indication of leveling out on a broad plane of permanent prosperity, with employment for all who want it at good wages. Only one factor can spoil the pattern—impossible demands such as a few unions are currently making.

Church Kitchen Slaying Trial Ready For Jury

ROANOKE, Va., July 2.—(INS)—An all-male jury was expected to decide today if 16-year-old Lee "Buddy" Scott is guilty—and if so to what degree—in the admitted slaying of pretty Dana Marie Weaver in a Roanoke church kitchen.

The teen-aged honor student testified yesterday that he killed the 16-year-old blonde schoolgirl because she made disparaging remarks about his college athletic "hero".

His attorney, T. Warren Messick, delayed the judge's charge to the jury when he attempted to strike all first-degree murder evidence from the record.

Admits Slaying Girl
Scott admitted in court that he hit the girl with a soft drink bottle, but denied that he attempted to assault her. Dana Marie's body was found strangled and beaten in the parish home kitchen of Roanoke's Christ Episcopal church last May 9.

Both the defense and prosecution failed to agree with Judge Kuyk on instructions to the jury following completion of testimony. Prosecutor C. E. Cuddy ripped into Scott's testimony and charged he killed the girl after trying to assault her. The youth denied the accusation and answered, "I hadn't even thought about that. She was a nice girl."

Scott testified he argued with Dana Marie about his college hero when suddenly "something came over me".

It was then, he continued, that he grabbed a soft drink bottle and struck the girl. He added: "She swung at me. She started clawing and kicking and biting."

The youth declared he didn't mean to choke Dana Marie but that he was simply trying to hold her still. He added:

"First I'd hold her down, then I'd ease up, then I'd hold her some more. Every time I would ease up, she would kick and scratch."

'LOOPHOLES' IN AMMONIA STORY, SAY POLICE

Joan Coward . . . killed.

THERE ARE "LOOPHOLES" in the story of Arthur Marino, 28, that two men attacked him and his sweetheart, 17-year-old Joan Coward, near a lake and forced him to undress, walk into the lake, and later swallow ammonia, say Chicago police. Marino said he later found Joan's nearly nude body on back seat of his car. He drove to a police station clad only in shoes and a towel and, his throat burning from the ammonia, wrote out his story for police. They said he refused to submit to a lie detector test. Joan's body showed no evidence of criminal attack.

Arthur Marino points to where her nearly nude body lay.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, July 2.—Movie stars are deserting Hollywood.

Most of the bright names of movieland are pitching camp in Los Angeles suburbs. They want to live where the smog isn't so smarting to the eyes and where their kids won't be exposed to automobiles of crazy drivers.

Tourists are fast learning that the best place to see their favorite stars is along the highways leading out of town.

Alan Ladd and Joel McCrea now reside on ranches in Ventura county, 65 miles from Los Angeles.

Take To Suburbs

The day after John Payne finished his latest film in Paramount's "Captain China," he moved to Santa Monica Beach. He leased a home for the year-round and will commute to the studios.

Van Johnson and Esther Williams also are neighbors at Santa Monica.

Near Santa Monica is an ultra-exclusive community known as Brentwood where many top stars have sprawling homes. Peter Lawford is one of the latest players to join the village. Shirley Temple lived there all during her childhood. Joan Crawford has lived there for years.

Mona Freeman and hubby, auto executive Pat Nerney, are building a few miles beyond Brentwood in the Riviera district. Their home will be completed in several months. Their next door neighbor will be Gregory Peck.

When Brian Donlevy crawls out of bed to report to work at the studio he has to allow himself a good hour for traveling. He lives at Malibu, famous movie colony at the beach.

Rory Calhoun and his bride recently latched onto a ranch at Ojai, Calif., and are living there except when picture works calls Rory to Hollywood.

More and more Bing Crosby hies up to his ranch at Elko, Nevada. Ginger Rogers also spends much of her free times at her Oregon ranch.

Michael O'Shea and his slick-chick wife Virginia Mayo have a ranch at Prescott, Ariz., when Mike completed his role with Bechman John Payne in "Captain China," the two guys took off for a stay at the Prescott ranch. Palm Springs claims William Powell and his wife, attractive Diana Lewis, formerly of the movies, as half-year citizens. Powell spends all the winter months at the famous resort spot. Bob Hope and Frank Sinatra have homes there, also, and spend a majority of their off-work days basking in the sun.

Sterling Hayden, his wife and two children live aboard their schooner, anchored at San Pedro, 35 miles from Hollywood.

A line coach for 25 years, Joe Bedenk is at the helm of a football team for the first time at Penn State this year.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

candy." The neighbor (or grand-parents) who insist on giving one's youngster candy and other sweets certainly does hamper one's effort at protecting these children.

Primitive Ways

"What do you think of mothers who feed their children with the same fork and spoon they themselves eat with?" I think they have pretty primitive ways and they lack regard for their youngster's health, by thus exposing him to any cold or disease they themselves may have.

"The other day a mother let her little boy go out and ride his tricycle. She warned him not to go beyond a certain boundary. Soon he disappeared as the lady next door had asked him to come in and have some candy. What should the mother do in this case? It would be wrong to punish the child, wouldn't it?" I think it would. It is too much to hope that a young child will refuse tempting treats by neighbors. With sufficient skill at persuasion the mother might be able to win the neighbor to cooperate. Yet this often is too much to hope for, making the problem very difficult indeed.

Now about the attitude of parents toward the baby sitter. Of course, they should treat her with very high regard and refinement, and not just for cultures sake, but also for the child's sake. Even the very young child senses his parents' attitude toward the baby sitter and certainly acts and feels toward her no better than the parents do. If a child is to cooperate with the baby sitter he must look up to her and esteem her. Moreover, those parents who treat a baby sitter as she should be treated can, on this account, the more easily find desirable baby sitters when they need them.

GIRL IS INJURED

Carol Dupey, aged six, 120½ Oakland avenue, was injured at four p. m. Friday when struck by a car driven by Mrs. Florence Chialfallo, 129 East Moody avenue, who was turning the car she drove from Long avenue into Howard Way. The girl, who is from Hopkinsville, Ky., is visiting the Oakland avenue address. She sustained abrasions and contusions of her left side, shoulder, left elbow and knee. She is still in the hospital.

WOMAN IS HURT

Mrs. Pearl White, 32, Randolph street, is in the New Castle hospital receiving attention for laceration of her left knee and injuries about the face and left hand in an auto accident at Taylor street and Cunningham avenue at 5:45 p. m. Friday.

HOLIDAY HOURS AT POST OFFICE MONDAY

There will be no mail delivery here on Monday, July 4, Postmaster William R. Hanna announced today. The usual holiday schedule will be observed on Independence Day, he stated.

This means no city or rural delivery and no window service. Special delivery service will be maintained throughout the day and mails will be collected and dispatched on the usual holiday schedule.

FIRE IN STUDIO

MUNICH, July 2.—(INS)—Fire broke out today in the largest film studio in the United States occupation zone of Munich, destroying one of three sound stages with a loss estimated at $80,000.

Villanova defeated Penn State, 13-0, the last time they met on the gridiron in 1936. The two will play again this year.

Registration Of Voters Is Pushed

Labor Organizations Are Seeking To Expand Registration Efforts

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, July 1.—(INS)—The political action committees of the state AFL and CIO are waging local campaigns to register voters for 1949 local elections which will be a prelude to the statewide balloting for major state offices next year. The registration deadline is July 23. The primaries will be held September 13 and the municipal elections November 8. Nominating petitions must be filed locally by July 25. The only office to be filled in statewide balloting this year is a 10 year, $21,000 a year superior court judgeship. Judge William E. Hirt, of Erie, is expected to be endorsed by Republicans for another term. Coincidentally with the general election voters will be asked to decide whether they approve of plans for a $500,000,000 bond issue to finance a bonus for World War II veterans. So far, the American Veterans committee in Pennsylvania has come out against the issue while the other veterans organizations are in back of the proposal.

Senate Minority Leader John H. Dent, of Jeannette, and the State Commerce Secretary Theodore Roosevelt III are arguing whether there is a "flight" of industry from Pennsylvania. Dent says yes, Roosevelt says no. What Dent apparently had in the back of his mind was a joint state government commission subcommittee's report that industry is not expanding as fast in Pennsylvania as in selected states farther west. The subcommittee pointed out the lag is true in other eastern states. The subcommittee cited several economic factors to support its report and pointed out that taxes on industry were part of the reason Pennsylvania's business expansion was not keeping step with some other states. The report was never given wide circulation by the administration which depends on such levies for funds to back up the huge budgets drafted every biennium.

The State Civil Service commission has established in court that there is a wide gap between state and federal civil service and that there is no common ground between the two. Early in the war, Congress reached out and took over state employment services under the guise of coordination. Several years ago the services were returned after a bitter battle in Congress between states' rights supporters and those desiring centralization of government. The workers employed during the interim of state control contended their civil service status under the Federal government carried over into the state system. Ten Philadelphians pleaded their case in Dauphin County Court and were turned down. They appealed to the supreme court and the lower court was affirmed.

There has been no great change-over in jobs yet in the departments of the state treasurer and the auditor general. Many patronage plums bearing juicy salaries have been passed out but the personnel—almost 100 per cent Democrats—in the lower salary brackets remains about the same for the time being. There is no doubt that Republicans ultimately will take over most of the jobs although many Democrats are expected to switch registrations to keep on the payroll. The change in the department's political status apparently hasn't even made itself felt among secretaries who have served Democrats for many years. A telephone call to one office where a Republican replaced a Democrat in Auditor General Weldon B. Heyburn's office prompted the secretary who answered the telephone to gaily identify it as that of the veteran Democrat.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

More Flat Rock Cooking
Last year in The Family Scrapbook, we told of the fun it was to cook on a thin, flat piece of rock. Since then, I've heard of a number of people for whom this is a hobby. Among them is the president of one of our largest educational institutions.

There's something deeply satisfying about being able to prepare food in primitive ways. It's not practical, of course, for one will have to admit that a frying pan can do the job far simpler than a flatrock. But it's still fun.

Here are a few more suggestions for the person who wants to try his hand at this sort of primitive cookery. Bacon, chops, thin steaks, fish and sausage can all be done to a turn on a thoroughly heated rock. Flapjacks seem to have an especially good taste, too, when cooked on a rock. And then, the old Boy Scout favorite—eggs fried in the hole of a piece of bread—is tasty. The hole in the bread "fixes" the egg so that it doesn't run all over the rock.

A little imagination will add to these standard dishes. Slices of apple fried in butter, for instance, or banana slices heated up and a few drops of lemon juice added bring new taste sensations.

Wolves Club Outing Sunday

On Tuesday, July 5, the regular Wolves dinner-meeting will be held at The Castleton. President Joseph Frengel will preside.

Junior Red Cross Names Delegates For Summer Camp

Three From County To Attend
Bynden Wood Training Center For 10 Days

Three Lawrence county students were named today as delegates to the annual Junior Red Cross Leadership Training Center to be held July 18-28 at Bynden Wood, Wernersville, Pa.

The delegates are Bruce Brown of George Washington, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Brown, 302 Leasure avenue; Shirley Buckley of Ben Franklin, daughter of Mrs. Isaphine Buckley, 1028 Woodland avenue; and Virginia Dexter of Mahoning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Dexter, R. D. 1, Edenburg.

Bynden Wood is one of 11 training centers to conduct courses this year. Students from seven states, representing 160 junior and senior high schools, will be joined by 20 school administrators from nine countries who are guests of the Junior Red Cross this summer.

Learn Water Safety

The delegates will learn to thoroughly understand how Junior Red Cross members in schools participate in service programs on the national and international level. Adult specialists will conduct demonstrations and classes in Red Cross courses which may be included in the school curriculum, such as home nursing and first aid. Opportunity will be provided for delegates to earn their water safety certificates.

Special emphasis will be placed on organization of Junior Red Cross councils, so that Junior Red Cross members themselves can participate democratically in choosing their own leaders and planning their own programs.

Today's Fashion Flash

By PHYLIS BATTELLE
(L. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, July 2.—A giant, tailored handbag — with a satin evening bag snapped in its lining — was introduced today in New York.

It's a black leather satchel that opens with a top flap to reveal a red satin lining. Fitted into pockets on one side are a gold cigarette case, lighter, lipstick, compact and comb. This side of the lining snaps out, folds over in envelope shape, and becomes a neat satin purse for formal wear.

The idea is a patented gimmick by the Evans Case Co. which for years has been giving ladies drawers of fittings to carry on their arms.

Their fall line also includes a bag with a watch on its side. The watch snaps out to be worn on a pigskin wristband that's thrown in with the price of the bag.

DISCARD BROKEN UTENSILS AND USELESS EQUIPMENT

It is a good idea for the homemaker to check and see if her kitchen is ready for the busy summer ahead. Are the food preservation supplies and equipment ready, and are the necessary articles in the kitchen?

Much time and energy is saved if kitchen things are in order and ready for use. Many storage spaces are overcrowded because some homemakers have the habit of saving everything. Discard all utensils which are no longer useful. Worn and broken pieces of equipment are accident hazards. Perhaps with caution a homemaker may be able to use a broken knife as a screw driver or a chipped enamel pan for gathering vegetables. But the question is whether it is worth taking the chance—whether it will interfere with "home safety."

In many homes children will be helping with kitchen activities during the summer and it is better to discard unsafe utensils and tools so the children won't be tempted to use them. Constant warnings, such as "don't use that pan, it leaks," or "be careful, don't cut yourself with that broken knife," or "that dish is cracked, don't get out," may develop in the children a dislike for kitchen activities.

If there is a larger stock of kitchen gadgets than is used daily, save time by sorting. Select for everyday use those utensils which have such advantages as straight sides, flat bottoms, and which are easy to clean, easy to grasp, and which are of sizes suitable for the family.

CHOOSE VACATION CLOTHES WHICH PACK AND TRAVEL

Vacation clothes should be comfortable and easy to care for. Only the vacationist knows how many clothes she should take or for what occasions. Before she chooses her vacation clothes, she should consider whether she will be traveling, well-chosen clothes will add to her vacation spirit.

A five-piece suit in a dark cool material will provide several changes. A skirt, jacket, and blouse for travel, the shorts and a sleeveless shirt for play. Another change-about costume consists of a sun-back dress with a jacket for street or travel and shorts and bra for sun bathing and sports. For cooler climates the skirt, jacket, shirt, blouse, and slacks can be worn change-about with a bright sweater.

Dresses of silk or rayon sheer or nylon take up little room in a suitcase and are ready for dress-up occasions. Nylon is being made up into a greater variety of garments than ever before. Not only hose, underwear, and sleeping garments, but blouses, dresses, and

Scout Camp Opens Formally Sunday

Group Of 20-30 Boy Scouts Will Inaugurate 1949 Camping Season

CAMP STAFF GIVES WATER PROGRAM

Lawrence County Boy Scout camp will have its formal opening of the 1949 season Sunday, July 3. No big exercises have been planned for the day but visitors will be welcome and a group of 20-30 boys will be on hand anxious to start a week of camp life.

Director John Lawson and a staff of 11 have been at work this week completing preparations for a busy season. Because of the Fourth of July holiday many of the boys did not choose to go to camp that week but it is planned to have 50-60 scouts for each of the remaining weeks of the camping season.

Make Improvements

Improvements this year include new seats for the campfire and the repairing of the approaches to it. The docks and waterfront have been painted and put in first class order.

During the week of June 24-30 17 boys of troop 43 have been camping as a unit. In addition to enjoying some wonderful food prepared by Mrs. Mills, the lads have had excellent swimming weather and they have built a large altar fire as their contribution for camp improvement this year.

Water Program

Thursday night, parents and friends of the staff and the campers were invited to attend a special waterfront demonstration. Under the guidance of waterfront director Dale Mackey an aquatic campfire was built on a raft and towed out in the Slippery Rock. A water safety demonstration, racing and a canoe combat were the outstanding features of the fire-lit program.

Charles West, troop 6; Willis Peacock 18, Edwin Miles 31, and Jim Norton 31, assisted with the demonstrations. They are all certified Boy Scout life guards.

GARDEN NOTES

Avoid spraying or dusting roses when the temperature is over 90 degrees in dry weather. Do not apply wet sprays after midday. If the wet leaves go through the night wet, mildew will be invited.

Prompt removal of fading flowers will encourage successive blooming of roses. Light fertilizing, mulching or cultivation and watering will help keep rose bushes growing and blooming during the summer.

Make necessary divisions of perennials as they cease flowering. Handling each kind when ready will give better results than a general replanting in autumn.

Vines or plants trained to grow on walls at this season so as to form them before the wood hardens. Wisterias may have their new shoots cut back so as to leave two or three strong buds to harden up before cold weather and produce flowers next year.

It's time to raise the cut on the lawnmower. Higher cutting in hot dry weather will mean a greener, thriftier lawn. Use no fertilizer on lawns at this season.

Make sure that window boxes get enough water throughout the summer. A little feeding at this time will prove beneficial.

The earth's population has doubled in the last century.

Hiding Under Bed Not A Crime Rules California Judge

SAN JOSE, Cal., July 2.—(INS)

—A San Jose judge has ruled that a man hiding under the bed of a neighbor woman is not necessarily disturbing the peace, even if his wife doesn't like it.

However, the judge says, if his wife comes after him and the two women fight, that is against the law.

Police Judge Percy O'Connor released the man under the bed, Van Tucker, 27, a salesman. But he fined his wife, Hustina, 26, and the woman who owned the bed, Mrs. Carrie May McClendon, 24, each $20.

It seems that Mrs. Tucker, suspecting her husband was in the McClendon trailer parked next to the Tucker trailer, knocked on the door.

When Mrs. McClendon objected to the visitor's entrance a battle ensued, with screaming and hair pulling and name calling. Two patrolmen broke it up, with one of them suffering a bitten finger in the process.

Police said Tucker remained under the bed and took no part in the quarrel.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CEEF

A globe trotting publisher reports a rather satisfying experience in the first-class carriage of an English railroad train. Next to a crusty old gaffer in a crowded compartment, he discovered a seat that was occupied only by the old gentleman's battered Gladstone.

"Would you mind removing this bag?" the publisher asked pleasantly. "It's not mine," snapped the gentleman. "It belongs to a friend of mine."

"In that case," said the publisher, "I'll just sit here until your friend shows up, and hold the bag in my lap." A few moments later, the train started. The publisher heaved the bag out of the window and explained, "Your friend must have missed the train. He'll undoubtedly be wanting his baggage when he does show up."

The old gentleman stomped out of the compartment at the train's first stop in a London suburb. His comments will not be quoted.

BRAINS FROM BREAD

A long time ago alchemists and magicians tried to change iron and copper into gold.

Butch does something more wonderful than that. He changes bread into brains.

Sometimes we hear people talk about brain food. Butch does not worry much about brain food or heart food or lung food. He eats all he can get of what he likes.

He has a factory which digests all of the different foods and sends them around where they are needed.

He needs a lot of different kinds of things to eat. Each kind of fruit or vegetable or nut meat has some special ingredient which his body can use.

Milk is a good brain food and bone food and Butch needs lots of it. He is busy making a set of teeth and needs good material to make white shiny enamel.

REPEAL OF WARTIME EXCISE TAXES NOT LIKELY THIS YEAR

WASHINGTON, July 2.—(INS)

—Prospects that congress will act this year on a cut in wartime excise taxes appear today to be exceedingly slim.

A double-barreled attempt is underway to return these levies on furs, jewelry and other luxury items to their 1942 levels, but there is scant hope of action before adjournment.

The campaign is sparked in the senate by a combination of Republicans and Democrats on the finance committee who voted 7 to 6 to reduce the rates.

Both the administration and Sen. George (D) Ga., finance committee chairman, oppose the move.

Congress is expected to adjourn late in August and the senate is still engulfed by a mass of unfinished business, including extension of the reciprocal trade agreements law, ratification of the North Atlantic pact and appropriation bills.

Make This July Fourth, Really Safe and Sane

Fire crackers are barred by law in an effort to make the Fourth of July safe and sane.

But not even legislation can stop people driving recklessly. It might penalize them for it later, but the only person able to stop reckless driving is the driver himself.

The life you save by safe driving may be your own. The highways will be clogged with traffic over the Fourth. Whether or not you get home safely depends largely upon you.

To truck operators we make this suggestion. Don't use the highways for freight transportation except in case of necessity. Let's keep the highways as free of trucks over the holiday as we can.

Nats Trounce Butler 10-2, Finish In Seventh Place

Herb Churchill Hurls Victory, Fans Eleven, Kiel Hits 12th Homer

Exploding base hits by the Nats, climaxed by the terrific home run elout (his 12th) by Herman Kiel, in the sixth inning, plus the strong right-arm hurling of Herb Churchill, gave the New Castle team a 10 to 2 triumph, and a seventh place finish, last night in the Mid-Atlantic league first-half.

It was Max Patkin Night and the funnysman was the means of attracting over 1,100 fans to Flaherty Memorial Field, and were rewarded with a fine exhibition by the turbulent Nats, the "Giant Killers" of the Mid-Atlantic, per se - Erie, Vandergrift and Youngstown.

Cannavino Looks On

One of the happiest persons at the game, was the boss-man Mike Cannavino, general manager and president of the Nats, who sat in the press box most of the game, and was elated as his hired-hands took the Butler Tigers apart. Cannavino had a grin from ear to ear as "fence buster" Herm Kiel parked his 12th homer in less than a month, over the left-field wall, with two mates scoring ahead of him, in the sixth.

"We're thinking about the second-half Cannavino said, we're not through building, we could use one more strong hurler and possibly an infielder, the GM said.

Seventh for Herb

Churchill in racking up his seventh win, fanned 11 of the Tigers, and walked but five men. He was effective in the pinches. In only one inning, the seventh, did Butler have more than one hit. Until the seventh Churchill allowed but two hits, both singles.

Franiak, Gipp, Bilo and Churchill, along with Kiel did the most hitting for the Nats, Kiel batting in three runs, Gipp two, and Churchill two, on his double in the big sixth inning rally.

Ted Edmonds was the victim of the Nats power last night, he lasted until the seventh inning. Dieters finished.

Nats Go To Work

The Nats went right to work, on Mr. Edmonds in the first inning last night and batted in four runs with the aid of two walks, to Tufts and Maier, a single by Torrey, doubles by Gipp and Franiak and a single by Bilo.

The Nats went hitless for four innings, then busted out with a rash of base knocks, five in number that produced six runs in the big sixth, taking all the fight out of the Tigers. Franiak led off with a single, Gipp singled, and Bilo lifted a fly to left that was gathered in. Churchill hit a sweet double to left field and Franiak, and Gipp into an Edmonds delivery and parked one somewhere near Croton avenue, and three runs scored, making six all told for the inning. Dieters gave up one hit for the final two frames, the seventh and eighth.

Two On Walks

Butler scored their two runs in the seventh on hits by Turzco and Cabanaw and walks to Stuckert, Nease and Odenheimer, two runs being forced in on walks, as Herb momentarily lost his control.

The Nats are starting to hit the ball authoritatively with 19 hits in the two Butler games.

Mongiello On Mend

Manager Billy Mongiello said last night that he hopes to get back into the lineup very shortly. His injured shoulder is responding to treatment. Mongiello's experience will be a big help in the second-half drive. The Butler Tigers fell apart at the seams in two innings, the first and sixth, having two errors that hurt and threw the ball around with abandon.

Philadelphia's second-place Athletics stayed with the pace by scoring seven runs in the second inning and going on to an 11 to 5 win over the faltering Boston Red Sox. Lou Brissie went the route for the A's and racked up his ninth victory of the campaign.

Frank Wagner Faces Oilers Here Tonight, As Second-Half Opens

Manager Billy Mongiello has nominated the veteran Frank Wagner, to face the Oil City Refiners here tonight, as the second-half race in the Mid-Atlantic league gets under way.

Wagner will be seeking his 11th win of the year against but four defeats. Oil City will probably counter with Swank their ace performer. It looks like a pitchers battle this evening.

Nats Vastly Improved

As the New Castle Nats swing into the second-half of the 1949 race it is a vastly different team than the club that started the season on April 29th. As matters stand now only—Feltman, Tufts, Churchill, Cook, Giardullo remain of the original starters. Three of the five being hurlers.

The Nats have been building slowly and have made many changes in the lineup as player after player was given a tryout. Today Manager Mongiello is about ready to settle for the present lineup with the possible exception of two positions.

Manager Mongiello announced today that Joe Karakul will take the mound Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock against Oil City here, seeking his third victory. Tonight's game starts at 8 o'clock.

Kiel Adds Power

Big Herman Kiel, former Vandergrift star, and with Fall River, Mass., when New Castle bought his contract, has given the Nats a lot of power at the "dish." Kiel blasted his 12th homer last night as the Nats trounced Butler, with two men aboard. Kiel has been doing a magnificent job at first base, and is hitting over the 300 mark at the present time. His RBI record is terrific.

The addition of Frank Turcy, left fielder with Erie at the start of the 1949 campaign, and lately with St. Cloud, in the Northern league, will give the Nats still further batting strength as soon as he gets acclimated.

Reed Maier appears to be fixture at short, his hitting and fielding has improved considerably the past few weeks. Walt Franiak has been playing good right field, and hitting consistently.

Very Fine Outfield

Franiak came in as an outfielder and was used at first base, a position he fielded very well. Franiak has been a steady ball player. He is an accomplished outfielder being fleet of foot and has but one or two errors.

Bill Torrey the Washington D. C. youngster who played left field till Turcy came in, is now at third and doing a fine job. Torrey is a clouter for a little fellow, having hit three homes for the Nats. Torrey was sidelined for ten days with an injured ankle.

Marv Feltman, the regular center-fielder has been banging the ball, up until the final games of the half and has handled his position creditably, having a strong left arm. He was benched last night in favor of Gene Bilo, to try and pull him out of his batting slump. Bilo, the Ellwood City boy has served the Nats well in a utility role, as an outfield replacement and a pinch-hitter.

Gipp Good Catcher

Mike Gipp who replaced Gordon Knisely as first-string catcher has done a magnificent job and is hitting the ball hard. Turcy will be used to spell off Gipp back of the plate in double-headers.

The signing of Joe Karakul, the Cleveland power pitcher, has given the Nats a very formidable array of pitching talent with Wagner, Herb Churchill, Mike Giardullo, Adolph Anderson, Bob Cook and Buechioni. Churchill and Giardullo both hurled full games against Butler in the past series. Karakul since joining the team a week ago has won two victories. He will pitch in the Sunday game here against Oil City, Mongiello stated.

Will Be Tough

If the Nats continue to play the sparkling type of ball they did last night, they are going to have something to do about the second-half title.

Johnstown won the first-half last night by trimming Youngstown 12-9 in the first game of a double-header.

Good weather, plenty of fun and a safe return to you over the Fourth. It's a long week end, and a glorious occasion to celebrate. But the Fourth won't mean much if you wind up in a hospital.

Remember if you will, there are no hero medals for reckless drivers who kill themselves.

HERE AND THERE
IN SPORTS' LAND

FRTZIE ZIVIC, welterweight champ a few years back, handled Chuck Gibbons against Jack Bottonovich at Ellwood City, last Wednesday night. Unlike most fighters who resign from active fighting Zivic has not grown heavy and yet has a trim figure, and appears in good physical condition. He was in jovial spirits after Chuck broke even with Bottonovich. Following the Jackie Lyons vs Billy Pozza fuss, which Lyons won by a TKO in the eighth, Fritzie and Here & There held a talkfest. Bernie Hanlon, city treasurer, who also knows F. Z., was present and when Bernie jocularly asked Zivic for his autograph, Fritzie replied: "I'll mark down an 'X'." "Do you recall the night you drove me from Pittsburgh to New Castle and I told you, that if Henry Armstrong and you could be matched, you would win the title?" Here & There asked Zivic.

"I sure do and you certainly had the right dope. At that time I believed I could beat him and did".

Incidentally, during that ride, Zivic offered to fight free if Here & There could get Taggart Stadium, and the consent of Manager Eddie Mead to allow Armstrong to fight here.

Here & There wired Mead in New York, who was sort of under obligation to Here & There, offering Armstrong the fight. However, the proposal fell flat. Mead did not even answer the telegram, probably because he knew he could get lots more money in New York, a fact, later substantiated. However, his fighter lost the championship.

Fritzie said Patsy Brannigan, the old-time sorrel-top is much in evidence around Pittsburgh and is yet the idol of the old-timers.

Bill Dummer, Pittsburgh matchmaker, came into the crowd. He has been in the game a long time, and knows fighters from A to Z. He recalled many incidents of Jolly bowl days, having watched many fights in that open air structure.

This column will not appear for two weeks
Here & There having gone on a vacation.

Bunny Buntach, manager of Jackie Lyons, joined the throng and when Here & There suggested he allow Lyons to fight Brothers at Flaherty field, Bunny smiled, then replied:

"No, not Brothers. He is too rough".

This was the second time Bunny has said 'No' to such a proposal. Nat Moll, manager of Ossie Neal made it one more in the crowd which stood in the field. He wanted to know why Tommy Leach, Jefferson A. C. would not stage a match between Neal and Moran.

"You want too much money for Neal's services" Here & There replied, stating that the rental for either the Arena or Flaherty Field was so high, Neal's price would result in a "bloomer", or loss.

"Okay then, you tell Leach to make me an offer, and if it is fair, I'll go along" Moll replied, so it looks like a Moran-Neal fight in the fall, if Johnny Loccasano, destiner for Moran, favors such a bout.

Jackie Lyons, who beat Pozza, came along, and we asked:

"Jackie, Pozza's back was toward the writer. We didn't see the punch which laid him low in the eighth. There is a difference in opinion as to where Billy was hit. What punch did you use?"

"Pozza led all night with his left hand. I kept trying to put over a right cross. The opportunity came in the eighth round. I made the most of it", Lyons, a seasoned, cagey heavyweight, replied.

Clearwater Offers
Home To Waitkus

PHILADELPHIA, July 2—(INS)—Clearwater, Fla., today offered to pay all of Eddie Waitkus' expenses if he will come to that city to recuperate.

Mayor Harry B. Sargeant informed a Philadelphia newspaper that the city would place an apartment and a new car with chauffeur at the first baseman's disposal.

Sargeant said that if Eddie accepted the offer, the city would fly him and his mother and father to Clearwater and provide all their living expenses.

The Phillies trained in Clearwater this spring.

The nature and character of the proposed amendments are: 1. To amend the second paragraph of the original Articles of Incorporation to include among other purposes the following "and to supplement the income of the members of this organization whose earning powers may have been decreased due to age or infirmities by the payment of a pension or relief as may be prescribed by the By-Laws." Also to strike out the word "Day" as it appears in the said second paragraph.

2. To amend paragraph 7 of the Charter by replacing the portion of the paragraph following the words, "provided however" with the following clause, "that any volunteer member of the Association who becomes employed by any municipality in their regularly constituted paid Fire Department after July 14, 1949 shall forfeit all claim to benefits of any kind in this organization and shall forfeit his membership."

3. By adding to the 8th paragraph of the Charter wherein the members of the Board of Control are set forth the word "Collector" after the word "Treasurer."

NEW F-94 PLANE 24-HOUR NIGHT FIGHTER

CAPABLE of flying and fighting in pitch darkness, the Air Force's new Lockheed F-94 is a two-seat, radar-equipped 24-hour jet night fighter. The plane, designers say, can fly and fight under conditions of weather and visibility that would ground standard jet fighters. Here are two views of the F-94—in flight and on the ground.

IN THE OPEN

We have a new, self-appointed bug dispatcher in the garden. We recently gave him "the air" from our screened-in back porch, but he felt there was an obligation due and is working out his bill by patrolling the corn and the dahlias, picking up beetles and butterflies, with now and then a meadow mouse or a small garter snake for variety. He sits for hours on the dahlias, keeping vigilant watch against all six-legged intruders.

When he came to our house as a fledgling sparrow hawk we gave him the run of the spacious porch and watched him wreck begonias and ferns and other plants while he proved those long falcon wings. The payoff came on Sunday as my wife was reading on the porch. Henry the hawk suddenly took off from the tall fern and landed smack dab in the braids atop her head. That's when we decided the time had come to let him go.

No Inclination To Leave
I gathered him up and placed him on a clothes line pole in the yard. He settled down and showed no inclination of flying away. Then I picked him up again and he rode around on my hand like a small falcon ready to be cast at game.

When tossed into the air he alighted on my shoulder. We placed him in the walnut tree by the porch and again he just sat there, perfectly content with his family circle.

I picked him up from the tree and gave him a high toss in the air. He immediately flew to the cornice above a window on the sunny side of the house. The sun had seared the painted metal on this projection and it was comical to watch his high stepping as the footing got too hot. Finally I took him off that hot spot atop a long pole and gave him a launching that forced him to fly high into the upper branches of the walnut tree.

Target for Vituperation
Almost immediately he became the target for vituperation by all the small birds in the neighborhood. We were surprised to find that the main burden of the attack was carried by a pair of orchard orioles. We had not even been aware that these shy songsters were nesting close by but Henry's appearance in the walnut tree brought them on the double-quick.

At first we had some doubts that the young hawk would survive. He had no parents to teach him the tricks of the woodland and the supply of raw beef trimmings was now shut off. He seemed dazed by the dive bombing and strafing of the indignant orioles, but at nightfall he was still there in the tree, apparently all shipshape.

He spent most of the following day in that tree, still the victim of unending attack by the orioles, and a sortie or two by our local robin delegation. Then the pangs of hunger struck and he took to hunting for small beetles about the garden. He would sit on a dahlia stake, scanning the ground until a morsel showed up, and then would drop down and pick up the tid-bit.

Became Self Sufficient
I knew then that Henry was self sufficient, particularly when watching him maneuver in the air on those capable wings. Shortly thereafter followed an excited telephone bulletin that he had captured a small snake and one recent evening he slaughtered a field mouse and dropped it almost at my feet in the garden. The instinct for survival that has been instilled in his tribe over the centuries had come to his rescue in his time of need.

It seems almost unbelievable, but romance has apparently already entered Henry's life. He formed the habit of perching on a dahlia stake and shouting the battle cry of his clan at the top of his voice. One day a beautiful sparrow hawk, slightly larger than Henry zoomed past the porch to a landing on the honey suckle pole beside the house.

Keeps Safe Distance
Henry sat coyly among the dahlias, still shouting. The visitor then spoke some shrill hawk language and wheeled into the skies when we got too noisy. Since then the wild Henrietta has kept a safe distance in the trees near by, scolding for all she's worth while we move up close to interview the gorgeous young male in the garden.

Hawks are said to mate for life. Whether she's a college widow or a plain cradle robber, Henry's future seems to be all planned. In the meantime it's a real delight to work the garden rows with a hawkling falcon for company, and to watch his gorgeous coloring and magnificent flight as he goes about his new life, free and unafraid.

Once again the sun has stood at Summer solstice and is already ballyhooing for a shortened working day. As old Geoffrey Chaucer said, "Summer is a comin' in."

Foresters Assist Woodlot Owners

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, (INS) Sixty woodlot owners and farmers were given woodland-management assistance by foresters of the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters during the last thirty-day period.

Over 4,000 acres of woodland were treated. A total of 675 thousand and board feet of timber was marked for proper cutting and an additional three quarters of a million feet were inventoried and management plans prepared.

There was an immediate gross return to the landowners of $10,685 and placed the treated woodlots in a condition for better future yields.

Slides Provided For Tree Lectures

HARRISBURG, July 2.—(INS)—To provide better service to the organizations requesting lecture service, the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters has equipped their district foresters with small color slide projectors and two lectures of color slides.

Foresters are now prepared to explain and show "how trees grow" and "the proper treatment of farm woodlots."

Lectures on additional subjects will be made available to the public through reportable field offices in the near future.

Organizations interested in securing this service should write to the nearest district forester's office.

Ford Strike Threat Seen Lessening

DETROIT, July 2.—(INS)—The threat of another walkout at the Ford Motor company lessened today, although members of UAW-CIO Ford local 600 met to discuss a strike.

The possibility of having another 1949 Ford strike by mid-July disappeared last night when the company and union agreed to extend their contract, which expires July 15.

The extension will be on a "day-to-day" basis and the 108,000 Ford union members will continue working, although a contract agreement is not reached by July 15.

Five days notice must be filed by the company or the union to avoid the extension.

The company and union negotiators now are deadlocked over the UAW's demand for a 100-dollar-a-month pensions plan, wage increases and welfare fund.

DIES FROM INJURIES
HARRISBURG, July 2.—(INS)—Nineteen-year-old David R. Myers, former Middletown high school track and grid star, died today in the Harrisburg hospital about six hours after he fell from his automobile near Hummelstown.

Myers' car was being driven at the time of the accident by a friend, Thomas E. Harris, 16, of Middletown.

Fourth Of July Is Most Perilous Of Holidays Says Safety Council

(By Central Press)
CHICAGO, July 2.—If you look upon Friday the 13th with foreboding, forget it—and start concentrating on the weekend just ahead. Because the National Safety Council says the Fourth of July holiday—Saturday, Sunday and Monday—will be the most hazardous single period of 1949 even though fireworks do not begin to take the heavy toll they once did.

The council says those three days will bring more deaths by accident than any other three consecutive days this year—if past experience holds true.

What kind of accidents? Traffic accidents will be the leading cause of death. The council estimates 290 persons will be immediate victims of street and highway mishaps. Drowning will be the second most important cause. About 175 drowning deaths probably will be reported during the weekend.

Fireworks will bring few deaths, but they will cause countless painful injuries. The death toll will be swelled by accidents involving firearms, burns, food poisoning, heat exhaustion and other hazards of a summer holiday.

The anticipated death toll can be reduced, safety authorities say, if the public recognizes the dangers of the Fourth of July celebration and uses extra caution and common sense.

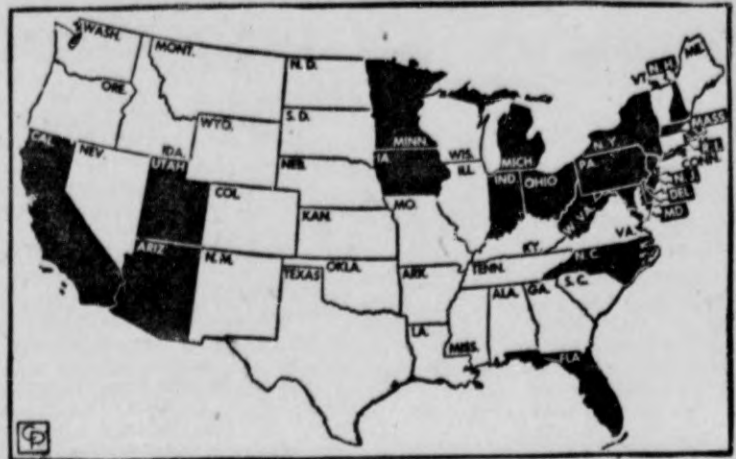

But let us make our celebration a true affirmation of the spirit of Independence Day, not a pagan ritual which must spill blood in the arena to exhilarate the celebrants.

"The position of the National Safety Council and most of us concerned with accident prevention in the United States is simple: The fireworks display should be limited to public displays in the hands of competent experts. The unrestricted sale or possession of fireworks should be banned. State laws are the only effective way to accomplish this, in order to prevent bootlegging beyond municipal or county jurisdiction."

Nineteen states now have laws prohibiting the sale of fireworks essentially similar to the model fire protection association. They are Arizona, California, Delaware, Florida, Indiana, Iowa, Maryland, Michigan, Massachusetts, Minnesota, New Jersey, New Hampshire, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Utah and West Virginia.

The effectiveness of state control, if properly enforced, is shown by the results in New Jersey where a state law was passed in 1937. For the four years preceding the enactment of the law, fireworks accidents in New Jersey had averaged 869 a year. Annual fire losses had ranged from $1,120,000 to $4,762,000. In 1937, the first year of the law's operation, fireworks accidents totaled 36 and fire losses were zero.

The fireworks death toll does not give a true picture of the hazard, the council emphasizes. Injuries, which may mean blindness, or disfiguring burns, bring tragedy to hundreds of children each year. Whether the expected tragedies will happen and whether this weekend will maintain its reputation as the most dangerous three days of the year depends upon the good judgment and common sense of one person—Mr. John Q. Public.

Nineteen states (in black) forbid sale of fireworks.

tion of fireworks fatalities was attempted. In that year 466 deaths were reported. The total has dropped steadily year by year since then.

"All of us recognized that traditions must have outward symbols—the Christmas tree, the Thanksgiving turkey, fireworks and the Fourth of July," said Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council. "Let us preserve them, by all means, because pagantry and symbolism are deep in the heart of every one."

But let us make our celebration a true affirmation of the spirit of Independence Day, not a pagan ritual which must spill blood in the arena to exhilarate the celebrants.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

A recent survey taken among more than 95 thousand senior and junior high school students reveals that a strong majority of teen-aged boys and girls believe that parents should carefully control the social lives of their sons and daughters.

These students, voting by individual ballot, were asked to place themselves in the position of parents and state whether they would allow 16-year-old children to come and go as they please (without restriction as to hours, frequency of dates, places of amusement, etc.) to associate with anyone they choose, to smoke or to drink alcoholic beverages. Only a negligible percentage voted against this parental discipline and the overwhelming majority expressed such opinions as these:

"A lot of juvenile delinquency is the parents' fault. To allow boys or girls complete freedom to come and go as they please, associate with anyone they like or to drink and smoke is shirking responsibility as a parent and contributing to the child's downfall."

Still another youthful opinion on youth:

"Youths from 14 until maturity are developing both physically and mentally. I believe that they should be carefully, not harshly, controlled by their parents until they are old enough to make the right decisions. I believe that this is the real duty of parents."

The predominant opinion expressed by the boys and girls interviewed was the insistence on parental advice rather than parental orders.

One teen-ager boy commented: "I should try to keep my son from dissipation through discussion with him and reference to examples of the harm it has done to others."

A 16-year-old girl said: "I feel that forbidding breeds deceit. Teen-agers should talk over these things with their parents and between them decide what is right and wrong."

Mother Nature Baffles Reporter

NEW YORK, July 2.—(INS)—A New York reporter who tried to play rainmaker blamed Mother Nature today for messing up his well-intentioned experiment.

James Carter of the New York Daily Mirror went up in the newspaper's plane yesterday afternoon, and following instructions given by the General Electric company, bombarded a cloud with dry ice pellets.

The only trouble was that when Carter went aloft, over Bayshore, Queens, a drizzle was already falling. When he came down it was still raining.

Carter's problem is, who made the rain?

The New York weather bureau meanwhile snubbed the whole affair as "sprinkles". This sent parched New York into its 37th day without rain.
